LOCALETS

On Thursday of last week the Editor took the flu throwing the print shop into disorganization. By the help of the devil and all his angels we have tried to keep a few things moving, unfortunately some have not gone in the most desired direction. Further than this we can make no apology though we regret our inability to keep our publication up to standard. Personally we have had a whale of a time. Several months back when it was quite the thing to have the flu, we jokingly responded to several of the afflicted that we would hold our session after the epidemic had passed, when there would be plenty of nurses available. Little did we imagine our innocent predictions would be visited upon us literally. We imagine there is little choice between the flu and seasickness. Both maladies cry for immediate extermination and the inventor of a satisfactory exterminant should be awarded a Carnegie peace medal.

Call at the Alberta Pacific elevator for good No. 2 CW oats and feed oats. —R. N. Moir, agent.

The Rebekahs made merry at their hard times dance on Friday evening, the largest crowd assembling here for some time let go the strings and romped away to the strains of "hard time". The costumes were varied from the sublime to the ridiculous. The officers of the law were very prim and looked the parts of real sons of the Emerald Isle. Lunch was inaugurated by crackers and water but later supplemented generous service of sandwiches, cake, and coffee. The lady's prize was given to Miss Rickett, the gentleman's prize to Friend Hank.

W. M. Armstrong, A. R. Hanna and John Stewart were among the men attending the I.O.O.F. Grand Lodge in Calgary this week.

Thos. L. Rodgers is billing a credit unreserved auction sale at his farm, N.E. 22-17-20 W4, 7 miles north of Lomond, on Friday, March 7th.

We would draw your attention to the Associated Farmers auditors' report on another page, and remind you of the general meeting on Feb. 28th.

The Lomond Agricultural Society directors meet next Saturday, March first.

Frank Brown was in the City from Sunday until Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Williamson attended the Rebekah Grand Lodge in Calgary as the delegate from the local order.

W. A. Teskey attended the Ford Motor convention in Calgary this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Erskine and Mrs. L. H. Phillips were among the numerous Calgary visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Adams are in the City for the week attending the Rebekah Grand Lodge.

Mrs. W. J. Clements is in Calgary this week attending the Red Cross convention.

Maggie has left for China and there is a lot less friction on the town pump.

The council will bore a well somewhere near the Adams-Bowers corner on center street.

Mrs. Emma Stark, aged 67, died on Friday of last week after a long and painful illness from cancer. Deceased was widely known and highly respected. The funeral took place from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Elliott, on Monday afternoon, interment being made in the Travers cemetery. Rev. A. T. Bell conducted the services.

A new $6,000 church was opened at Retlaw last Sunday. Rev. Thos. Paul of Calgary, superintendent of missions, preached the dedication sermon. The building is 50x40. A large banquet was held on Monday night.

FOR SALE, fresh milch cow with calf.—J. R. McKay.

The Peace Club is planning to give a supper in honor of returned soldiers on March 12th.

Considerable excitement is being exhibited over the demand of the ratepayers for an investigation into the affairs of Clifton Council. A committee consisting of a member from each of six divisions has been authorized to secure legal advice and proceed accordingly. Nominations call for a poll in division 2, James Marshall and Peter Nord being the contestants. In division 6 W. H. Hunter and E. R. Barnett are running. Lee Jones takes division 3 by acclamation. The poll is on Feb. 27.

What might have terminated in a fatality, happily resulted in none the worse than shaking up the occupants of the buggy which was dandy smashed indeed, when Henry Miller's team ran from the Associated Farmers yard up the main street and collided with the vehicle driven by A. R. Morgan, who was accompanied by Mrs. Hunt. The horses ran astride astride a telegraph pole which brought them to a sudden stop.

Condensed Advs.

HORSE FOR SALE
Good sound work horse, 5 years old weight about 1700 lbs.—R. H. Dobson

TRACTOR FOR SALE
8-16 Mogul and plows, for sale cheap on good terms.—Otto Hoeg.

That the occurrence was not of a more serious nature is very much of a miracle. The horses were started through a motor car running close beside them very unexpectedly.

ARMADA

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Dawson are visiting friends at Calgary this week.

We are all glad to welcome 'Ray' Beagle back after his prolonged siege with 'flu and its complications.

Guy W. Johnson of Vulcan is to address a meeting Friday evening in the interests of U.F.A. work.

Geo. Brothwood is a persistent visitor at Lethbridge this winter. Even cheap oats couldn't keep home.

Since our U.F.A. unloaded their oats there are many reports as to the price of oats at the elevators, also intimations of what a saving we could have made had we dealt with local grain firms. We could not say positively what might have been, but we do know what conditions were.

THE MARCH OF THE DEAD

In this way the New York Tribune tries to impress the American people with the immensely greater sacrifice made by their allies. After saying that the United States dead reach a total of 52,009 it says:

"Not more than 100,000 persons marched in the greatest parade New York has ever known. Our preparedness parade, and possibly the Third Liberty Loan parade totalled that number—that number of marchers. All day long they marched, until after sundown. We thrilled at the sight of these living Americans."

"Let us visualize the march of the march of the British dead. At day-break they start down Fifth Avenue, twenty abreast. Their fallen comrades follow a few paces behind, in close marching order. Until sundown these

TRAVERS

Guy Keating is calling on friends this week.

The many friends of Mrs. Lacy will be glad to hear she has so improved at Lethbridge hospital that she will be able to return this week.

The Paulson family and Clark family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl ones.

Jack Morgan formerly of Travers, now of the American Navy, is renewing old acquaintances here.

Mr. Grenier has gone to meet Mrs. Grenier who has improved sufficiently to return home from St. Paul, where she has been taking treatments.

Mr. Foisia and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Couch motored to Lethbridge Wednesday.

There is still lots of Red Cross sewing on hand. Every Wednesday afternoon the church is opened for those who will help.

Messrs. Hansen and Addington of Olds were in the district buying cattle.

Mr. Purcell of Brooks has been here for a few days.

men who have 'gone west' march down the avenue. The next day there is a similar parade, and the next and the next. For ten days the British dead pass in review.

"For eleven days more the French file down the avenue of the allies. Three weeks of marching dead men."

"The Russians who died for their empire would require the daylight hours of five weeks more. And for the other brave allied fighting men we must reserve a fortnight. Two months and a half for the dead to march past a given point."

THE LOMOND MEAT MARKET

We now provide the Lomond people with an up-to-date, clean and efficient meat market. Always a complete stock of fresh and cured meats, fish, sausages, etc.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICES PAID FOR LIVE STOCK, HIDES, POULTRY, ETC.

.. LOCALETS ..

(Set for Feb. 13)

Two near conflagration happenings on Saturday and Sunday respectively served to accentuate the wisdom of providing fire protection. The fire on Saturday caught from hot ashes on the coal shed at the rear of the post office, fortunately little headway was gained before the discovery was made. The chief and his volunteer associates made short work of this singular menace to the town.

The fire in Church Sunday afternoon was discovered at two o'clock by F. L. Willard. Again, through the favor of fortune, the fire started in the north-east corner of the building. Had it been otherwise the gale blowing from the south west would have made futile all efforts towards extinguishing the blaze. As it was through the help of many hands and by making use of Clements tank of wash water the flames were held down from taking effect any but that corner. The stove had been placed slightly too near the wall which was of lumber covered with paper. The church was cleaned out, and service held as usual in the evening.

Dear Friends:

I recieved your most welcome parcel and was pleased with it. It was just what I needed.

Well, we are on the Rhine. It is sure a fine place but I never expected to spend Xmas in this country when I joined the army a year ago.

The natives are not very well pleased at our being here, but they know than to start anything. If they do we will wipe them clear off the earth.

We had the honor of being the first

The memorial service to Charlie Westgate held at Bow City on last Sunday afternoon was attended by more than could be provided with seating capacity. The hall was profusely decorated with patriotic design. The altar held several bouquets of beautiful flowers as well as a draped photograph of the deceased brave one. Rev. Dr. C. E. Bland of Calgary delivered a very cultured and eloquent discourse. The speaker illustrated many of the brighter issues growing out of the world's tragedy. As one example he cited the advance in surgery which has progressed to an extent comparative to the entire progress made during the past one hundred years. Science, Art, and Industry have all been spurred to superhuman efforts, and the inventive genius of man has been awakened a hundred fold. Dr. Bland gave a very fitting eulogy on the life and spirit of the departed in closing his remarks. Two special vocal numbers were rendered during the service.

3 SIGNIFICANT POINTS about ALBERTA MUNICIPAL HAIL Insurance which should secure YOUR VOTE---

THE LIBERAL WITHDRAWAL CLAUSES. Any crop may be withdrawn entirely from the operation of the Act by giving notice to the Secretary-Treasurer before 15th. June. Crop destroyed by any other cause than hail may be withdrawn up to 20th. of July and a proportionate refund of premium will be allowed.

EASY PAYMENTS OF PREMIUMS. Premiums are payable on or before 15th. December without interest. This gives you insurance on CREDIT terms at a CASH price.

THE CHEAPEST SAFE PLAN of Hail Insurance yet devised. It is not only a distinct asset to the individual but to the community as a whole. Moreover, the cost is so low that it does not prohibit any farmer from carrying additional insurance elsewhere.

Retlaw-Lomond Utilities Board Holds Meet

The Retlaw-Lomond Utilities Board held its first regularly called meeting in Paulson's Hall, Travers, last Friday afternoon, more than twenty delegates being present. Organization was the first issue. Cruickshanks of Retlaw was elected president, and the vice-presidents are Elves of Lomond, Collier of Enchant, Paulson of Travers. A. P. Hempel of Retlaw was retained as secretary. This order of business took up a good deal of time.

There was no communication at hand with regard to the action taken by the Railway Commission on the protest for a better service, consequently it was taken for granted that the public was stung. As the Railway Commission holds a sitting in Lethbridge Feb. 25th, Cruickshanks and Elves were appointed a delegation to take the matter up with the Commissioners direct. It was further conceded that the investigation conducted by the Commission's representative was of a very prejudiced and unfair nature and a resolution was authorized condemning the methods pursued. The mail service was taken up at length and it was finally decided to proceed to negotiate with the post office department for a daily mail. Retlaw and Enchant to be served from Taber, while Lomond and Travers would get theirs from Vulcan.

The matter of turning water into the Little Bow was discussed and pressure will be brought to bear on the proper authorities for the accomplishment of this end.

A resolution was authorized demanding that wholesale oil dealers be compelled to sell gasoline and kerosene by the measured gallon, the same as the retailer. It is quite commonly acknowledged that the present system of weighing does not hold out.

The Travers U.F.A. entertained the several delegates to supper.

NOTES

About the most interesting event of the week was the arrival of our "weakly train"—ON TIME.

How do you like the change to real winter with snow.

Still more evidence of railway construction this summer.

The Dominion Government will appropriate one million dollars to Alberta this summer for road construction providing Alberta appropriates in the ratio of sixty to forty. Alberta should have some good roads if the big Moguls do not switch all the money up in the bog-ridden north. We in the south have to go begging for our share of Alberta's appropriations—taking previous years as our criterion.

One satisfactory conclusion growing out of the petition to dissolve the organized Municipal District of Clifton is the fact that the ratepayers have on this occasion, educated themselves into municipal politics. In years heretofore the ratepayers have payed their taxes with the usual amount of grumbling but have never taken the trouble to investigate whether there was any grounds for grumbling or not. They took it for granted that the councillors were not responsible to the people. Now, when times have tightened a little, the ratepayer begins to squirm and enquires as to his actual status. He has awakened to the knowledge that his councillor is merely his servant and it is the councillor's duty to conduct the affairs of the municipal district in accordance with the wishes of the ratepayers. Two caucus meetings have been held bringing to light affairs that do not reflect any honor upon some members entrusted with public stewardship. While no missappropriation has been alleged there has been a general slackness in administration. The Press has little sympathy for the ratepayers because they have not shown themselves worthy of any consideration. It is not good policy to continue paying taxes from year to year without making it one's own business to know how this money is being expended. As for the councillors, their actions cannot be anything but a reflection of the spirit of the ratepayers.

In 1918 the provincial government generously conceded to the Municipal District of Clifton some seventeen hundred dollars to apply on road construction, yet it took out of the district close to nine thousand dollars in auto licenses and supplementary revenue taxes. It looks as if a little better administration might be initiated in Edmonton.

It sort of goes against the grain to pay fifteen to twenty dollars a year for the privilege of bumping your little old joy wagon to pieces.

T. A. Kennedy has installed a new gasoline retail pump.

J. H. Doane has turned his blacksmith shop into an auto repair shop.

War to Peace

Make The Returning Soldier Welcome

THIS is an important hour for Canada. The nation is entering on a new era. It is passing from war to peace. Let us start this new era right. There are thousands of soldiers returning from overseas. The Government is doing all in its power to get these men back to civil life.

It is giving a War Service Gratuity—more than any other nation—to keep the soldier going till he gets a job.

It gives him a pension—where his usefulness is impaired by his service.

It teaches a man a new trade when his service unfits him for his former trade.

It gives him free medical treatment when illness recurs, and supplies free artificial limbs and surgical appliances.

It is bringing back to Canada at the public expense the soldiers' dependents now overseas.

But the Government, however willing, cannot provide the personal touch needed in this work of repatriation. That must be given by the people themselves.

The men who went from these parts to fight in Flanders deserve a real welcome home—the best we can give.

In most towns committees of citizens have already been organized to meet the soldiers and their dependents at the station, to provide hot meals, supply automobiles, afford temporary accommodation when necessary.

In addition, many other towns are organizing social gatherings to give public welcome to returned men after they have been home a few days.

After he has rested, the soldier must be provided with an opportunity for employment. In towns of 10,000 population, Public Employment Offices have been established to help soldiers, as well as war-workers, secure good jobs quickly. Where these exist, citizens should co-operate. Where they do not exist, the citizens themselves should help put the soldier in touch with employment.

* * *

The fighting job is done. It has cost many a heart-burning. But it has been well done. The least we can do is to show our appreciation in no uncertain manner.

Don't let the welcome die away with the cheers.

Brother of Lomond Man Badly Burned in Bush Fire

The man, Julius Opsahl, referred to in this article is a brother of J. I. Imslund north of Lomond. The article was taken from the Superior Telegram of Dec. 9th.

After nearly eight weeks of confinement to his home suffering from the terrible injuries received in the awful forest fire on October 12 last, Mr. Peter Eimon, president of Eimon Mercantile company, is able to appear at his desk for a short time each day. Of his companions in the fateful auto that took the injured quartette right into the heart of the holocaust, Ben Eimon, treasurer, and Frazer McKenzie, buyer of the concern, have been at work for a couple of weeks already although both are bearing marks of their awful experience. The fourth companion, Julius Opsahl, is still confined to his bed at St. Luke's hospital, Duluth, with the chances against his return to his home until after the beginning of the new year.

The experience that these four brave men went through in self-sacrifice and suffering to save the lives of others stands apart as something that fortunately comes into the lives of very few. It was at four in the afternoon on that awful Saturday that the call for help from Superior auto owners to come to the rescue of the settlers scattered through the zone sweeping before a hurricane going at 60 miles hour. It caught Peter Eimon just closing his desk for the week. Calling McKenzie and Opsahl to come along the trio jumped into his "Hup" standing before the door and set out for their homes to get on their hunting suits before setting out on their eventful journey. On the way they picked up Ben, also in hunting rig, with heavy mackinaws outside, and in a short time were right in the midst of the fire field.

Strange to say it was these very "Patrick" coats that saved their lives when they were laying out there on the flame swept road a few hours later engulfed in a sea of fire that snuffed out the lives of nine other human beings only a few hundred feet further back, and over a thousand others.

The four men got into the stricken district on the Miller road, formerly called Pike Lake turnpike, about 5 p.m. and immediately started to bring struggling refugees to a large clearing on Louis Anderson's farm a short distance nearer town. The farm lies about eight miles from Duluth. A large number of refugees were thus brought into comparative safety, and no doubt most of them eventually saved from death in the flames.

About 7:30 the four started back to Duluth. Shortly afterward they had a blow-out, but that did not stop them until a couple of miles further on when the rim got so bad they had to stop for repairs. They lost considerable time and when they finally got in some kind of shape to start, the fire shot right through the brush ahead of them. Still they pressed on, blinded by smoke and unable to see their way until a sudden turn in the road a few rods further on they ran into a ditch and wrecked the car. Here Ben in the fearful jar shot through the windshield and received a cut over the eye that may mark him the rest of his days.

The four men speedily abandoned the car, joined hands and decided to stick together. With fire in front of them they started to run back on the road where the flames as yet hadn't broke through. After a run of perhaps 50 feet the also swept over the road behind and there they were entirely surrounded. Forced to let go of each other the men separated and tried another run for it.

Finally three of them laid down and gave themselves up for lost. All had given up hope of rescue and their thoughts turned to their Maker and the beyond. Peter Eimon stood up through it all, which accounts for his more severe burns, than some of the others.

After staying where they were for the better part of an hour the men regained their wind and started to find one another in which they soon succeeded. Hearing piteous cries some distance back they found the remnants of the ill fated Kendall party five persons in one auto who all perished. Three of these were still alive and moaning piteously for water. One of them was dead when found, the other two died later in the hospital. It was only within a short distance of them that Mr. and Mrs. Frey found in each other's arms.

Unable to give aid beyond promising to send others to their rescue the four started back towards town on foot and got about three miles further on when they came to a knoll with a couple of buildings near the top, both aflame.

Here they laid down in the grass, too weak to go any further. About midnight parties in autos came along and took them to St. Luke's hospital which rapidly filled up with injured.

Their wives meanwhile had been waiting all through the long sleepless night waiting until Sunday morning brought news that their husbands were alive but at the hospital. It was a sad sight that met them later in the day, when finally admitted to their rooms, they saw them wrapped up like mummies and suffering fearful agonies.

Owing to the foresight of Dr. A. C. Hoyde who went over Tuesday with a big auto and brought the men the long way back home via the Oliver route, then the only one available, the Eimon boys and Mr. McKenzie have enjoyed better care than they in any possible could had at the hospital. And their removal happened in the nick of time, too, for the next day they were too weak to turn in bed. Constant injections of opiates dulled the heaviest pains but it nearly three weeks before Peter Eimon was able to enjoy natural sleep.

All the injured men were burned severely about the face and also on their bodies. The surface of their faces were long encrusted, their hands are yet far from healed. Mr. Opsahl in fact will probably lose several fingers on either hand. Being 63 years his recovery is slower than his more robust companions. He is an example of the trusted employee, having been with the Eimons 28 years.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO THE MAN WITH CASH

I carry a full line of I.H.C. machinery and repairs also the largest stock of plow shares along this line for nearly all makes of plows, on which I am giving a great reduction in price until the 15th of February, at which time the price will advance about $1.25 per share. I have a second hand 10-20 plowing outfit and several 3-bottom engine gangs, and one 5-bottom independent beam hand-lift P. & O. engine plow, for sale cheap---if taken soon. I handle Overland Cars, Bulldog Fanning Mills and De Laval Cream Separators.

COME IN AND TALK IT OVER WITH ME
